KEY ACHIEVEMENTS

What moved forward this year

01

Gender Bender 2024

PMVT and Kahani Ki Dukan brought hidden gender and caste discrimination in the mountains to a wider platform through theatre.

02

Women's Land Rights

Research on women's land rights began, including a survey of 300 families between March and May 2025.

03

Theatre of Oppressed

Village and institutional performances opened conversations on caste, mental health and domestic violence.

PROGRAMME STORIES

Domestic Violence Support

Case work, legal support and follow-up remained central to PMVT's work.

Pine Needle Livelihood

Livelihood workshops across Kangra supported women to develop and use new skills.

IMPACT ON COMMUNITIES

The year was not only about activities — it was about creating spaces for people to speak, seek support and act.

- Gender Bender created a national platform for conversations on gender and caste discrimination in mountain communities.
- Theatre became a strong way to open difficult conversations with communities and institutions.
- Women's land rights research created a base for deeper work on women's ownership and access to land.

LOOKING AHEAD

Continuing the work

- Deepen community-led conversations on rights, community mental health and wellbeing.
- Continue support for women and children facing violence.
- Strengthen women's economic independence and leadership.
- Use theatre, research and dialogue to challenge discrimination.
- Build stronger community and institutional partnerships.
